

John Pacheco

John started his writing career at the age of 14, writing a parody for a high school music project.

Since then, he has performed, directed, composed, and written several dozen songs, plays, musicals, and films.

Currently, he works behind the scenes as a Production Manager, Stage Manager, Technical Director, and Carpenter for local theaters. All at the same time. With very little breaks.

He is excited to be part of real-life inspired stories that make up the community of Roshni.

Ammon Underhill

Ammon is a local playwright, director, and actor.

His most recent work has been with Red Rocks Community College's Gateway program on their SCARs project, writing and directing

'Re-Membered', a show that will premiere in June and will tour several Colorado cities.

Ammon is honored to be a part of telling such a beautiful story of community connection and overcoming diverse wars, especially those unseen but felt keenly.
